Driving the evolution of plastics

Our association

Representing the interests of the bioplastics industry in Europe

European Bioplastics (EUBP) is the association representing the interests of the bioplastics industry in Europe. Founded in 1993, EUBP has been a key player in shaping the policy environment for our industry in Europe for over 20 years. Our foremost goal and commitment is to build and strengthen a supporting policy framework for bioplastics in the EU to thrive in through a strong network and engagement in dialogue with all relevant stakeholders.

Our members

With around 70 members from the entire value chain, EUBP is uniquely placed in the industry with an extensive network of businesses, partners, and experts in the bioplastics sector across Europe and beyond. Our members develop, produce, refine, and distribute bioplastics and are located all over the globe and engage in the European market.

EUBP members have access to a multitude of networking opportunities, visibility through representation across the field, business enhancement opportunities and support, access to comprehensive information resources, annual meetings and conference discounts. Newcomers to our industry and/or the European market in particular can rely on EUBP to help them get a foothold in the sector and benefit from our broad knowledge and contact database.

Our services

EUBP serves as both knowledge partner and business network for companies, experts, and all relevant stakeholder groups of the bioplastics industry. Our primary task is to raise awareness and inform policy makers, brands, businesses, consumers, media, and the interested public about the properties, benefits, and potentials of bioplastics for a sustainable society.

In order to meet the ever-growing demand for intelligence, we provide comprehensive information on all relevant topics, a yearly market data update, as well as the opportunity to learn more about bioplastics at our annual European Bioplastics Conference – the leading business and network event of our industry.

EUBP closely monitors, evaluates, and contributes to relevant developments in EU legislation concerning the European bioplastics industry. We are a trusted source and knowledgeable partner for EU policy makers and provide for a well-informed and balanced decision-making concerning the bioplastics industry.

Annual European Bioplastics Conference

The annual European Bioplastics Conference, organised by EUBP, has been witness to and a driving force behind the outstanding developments in one of the most innovative and exciting sectors of the European bioeconomy over the past decade. Today it is the leading business and networking event for the bioplastics industry in Europe.

The programme of the two-day event is complemented by a number of networking opportunities, an exhibition, and a number of fringe events. Every year, the European Bioplastics Conference attracts more than 350 participants from around 200 companies and 30 countries to connect and catch up on the latest developments, issues, debates, and trends in the bioplastics industry in Europe.

For more information on the upcoming European Bioplastics Conference, speaking opportunities, or sponsoring offers, please go to www.conference.european-bioplastics.org.
